

Peeler

Randy Baxter is an aspiring chef who dreams of better days ahead. He's come to work as part of the kitchen staff at Ashbury Creek Asylum, a federally funded institution for the criminally insane. Randy's not crazy but he does harbor a past filled with psychological issues including the need to cut himself to make the memories of his abusive childhood go away. When he learns about the man they call Peeler, a man to overcome his inner demons once and for all, he manipulates a face-to-face meeting with Peeler but as with all things, there's a price to pay. To see one of the most violent, disturbed men ever to be imprisoned in the maximum security asylum Randy must bring Peeler a small gift. Something no one in their right mind would even think of giving him. A shiny new razor blade... Peeler is a novelette at 11K words. Special Bonus Content: This print edition contains the first Chapter of Gord Rollo's novel Strange Magic as a bonus preview. The character of Peeler has a small role in the novel.
